Your Impact in Action! JPP's 2024 Annual Report is Here

Dear JPP Supporters,

Because of you, families in our community are rewriting their stories and we are honored to share just how much your support has meant. Our 2024 Annual Report is more than a collection of numbers. It's a celebration of strength, transformation, and the unwavering belief that every family deserves a chance to thrive.

You'll read about Sunny, a mom who rebuilt a life filled with hope and stability for her children after losing everything in a fire. And Patience, who earned her bookkeeping certification and found a meaningful career, setting a powerful example for her kids to follow their dreams.

These stories are real. And they're only possible because of you.

- 99% maintain stable housing
- 93% of families have healthcare for every member
- Dozens of parents earned degrees, certifications, and promotions
- Children are growing up in safe homes filled with love, support, and possibility

When you support JPP, you are investing in more than a program. You're investing in people, in potential, and in a community where everyone has the opportunity to succeed.

From all of us at JPP: thank you. Your belief in this work changes lives.

With gratitude and heart,
The JPP Team

P.S. This is just the beginning. Your partnership is building a future where more families thrive, more children dream, and more stories end in hope.

Skip the Soirée, Support Self-Sufficiency

All month long, we're inviting you to do something powerful, give directly to what matters most: families.

Instead of hosting a gala, we have launched our Anti-Event Fundraiser to raise $10,000 by June 30th, with 100% of donations going directly to support Jeffco families.

Last year, thanks to your support, JPP provided more than 1,000 hours of coaching, helped families reduce reliance on public assistance, and empowered parents to achieve their career and education goals.

No tickets. No dinner. Just impact.

Thank you for helping us build a stronger, more self-sufficient Jeffco.

Congratulations to Our 2025 JPP Graduates!

Last week, our JPP community celebrated the incredible accomplishments of our families at the Annual Achievement Ceremony! This inspiring event honored the progress, resilience, and success of every graduate who has worked tirelessly to build a brighter future for themselves and their children.

These families have earned degrees, launched new careers, strengthened their financial stability, and even become homeowners proving that with hard work, determination, and a strong support system, anything is possible.

Here are a few of the powerful stories we celebrated:

Brittany & Nathan

Brittany and Nathan joined JPP with the goal of completing their high school education. Since then, they've earned diplomas, launched new careers, purchased their first home, and started a small business. Their children are thriving, and they continue to grow their financial knowledge and future dreams.

Manda & Chris

Manda joined JPP focused on improving her mental health, parenting skills, and financial stability. With Chris by her side, they both advanced in their careers. Chris became a Journeyman Electrician and purchased their first home. Their children are thriving in school, and they're continuing to build their savings and future together.

Kapri

Kapri joined JPP with a dream of going back to school and creating stability. She earned her Associate's Degree in Social Work, now works as an Admissions Counselor, and made the bold decision to return her housing voucher, reflecting the confidence and self-sufficiency she's gained through JPP.

Laura & Carlos

Laura and Carlos joined JPP committed to furthering their education and careers. Laura earned her CDA and a Cybersecurity Certificate, landing a job at Head Start. Carlos advanced his IT career, and now holds a business management position. Together, they've improved their finances, and built a strong foundation for their family.

To our JPP graduates: Congratulations on this well-earned milestone! Your courage, perseverance, and commitment inspire us all. As you begin the next chapter, know that your JPP family is here, cheering you on every step of the way.
